REMEMBERING • RECONCILING • TAKING A STAND

The marches were originally birthed in Tübingen, Germany by Jobst Bittner, a theologian and activist, as a German-Christian response to the Holocaust. The marches have grown to a worldwide movement led by Christian upstanders and universities partnering with the Jewish community.

March of Remembrance is an international organization that honors the survivors and victims of the Holocaust while promoting healing and reconciliation between victims and perpetrators, and their descendants. The Nathaniel Foundation is an educational and philanthropic organization that supports benevolence and humanitarian aid projects, and is proud to support this march.
